

Costa Rican Army Has Surrendered

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—Threatened war between Panama and Costa Rica was averted early today with the surrender of the Costa Rican army in Coto, according to word received here by J. E. Lefevre, charge d'affaires, of the Panama legation.

Mr. Lefevre called on Secretary Colby and informed him of the changed aspect of the situation. The legation dispatch, while giving no details, indicated that the Costa Rican forces had capitulated in the presence of the Panamanian volunteer army which marched out to meet them from David in the province of Chiriqui. Whether fighting occurred was not stated.

Following a conference with Ricardo J. Alfaro, Panamanian minister of interior, and Secretary Colby, Mr. Lefevre understood that the Costa Rican attempt to seize territory east of the Golito river, recognized as Panamanian under the "status quo of the Pacific," had been abandoned.

PROFITEERING CONVICTIONS SET ASIDE

42 Bodies Taken From Train Wreck

PORTER, IND., February 28.—Forty-two bodies had been collected today from the wreck last night when the Canadian and the Interstate limited on the Michigan Central and the New York Central lines, respectively, crashed at a crossing. It was a diamond shaped crossing, permitting the New York train, which struck as the other sprang, derailed, across the intersections to take two Michigan Central cars, instead of cutting them, at right angles.

The Michigan Central train had missed clock signals said to be set against it, and had been derailed by a derail that officials said was automatically set against it along with the signals. It plunged ahead on the tracks until it came to rest across the New York Central right of way, with its day coaches at the point of intersection.

At nearly sixty miles an hour, the New York Central train came on the scene of its headlight warning many of the doomed passengers, who leaped from their seats. One or two reached the doors, but not one escaped the crash.

The New York Central mogul locomotive was stripped as it hit, wrecked flying up above the telegraph wires, with a cloud of dust witnesses likened to an explosion. Bodies of several passengers were carried with the locomotive and buried beneath it.

All the dead were in the two Michigan coaches, which carried few through passengers. Upwards of fifty persons bound for Quebec, Montreal and Toronto were aboard the east bound Canadian. Their cars were not much damaged. The New York train was bound for Chicago.

Railroad officials were at a loss to explain the phenomena of the derailment of so many victims. Half of the dead apparently were instantly killed.

Six Irishmen Are Executed

LONDON, February 28.—(By the Associated Press)—The British government does not intend to alter its present policy for maintaining order in Ireland, Mr. Lloyd George, the prime minister, announced in the House of Commons today. The chief secretary for Ireland, he said, would be allowed to carry his administration to a successful conclusion.

CORK, IRELAND, February 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Despite the appeal for clemency made recently by the Cork corporation, the six Irishmen in jail here, whose death was fixed for today on charges of levying war against the crown forces, were only executed by the military this morning. The men were shot in batches of two each at intervals of 15 minutes.

The men executed were: Timothy McCarthy, Thomas O'Brien, Patrick Muloney, John Lyons, Daniel Gallagher and John Allen.

The first five were condemned for an attack upon the crown forces at Tipperary, County Cork, in January, 1920, when they were in possession of a large quantity of arms and ammunition. It was his sentence which the king's bench confirmed on January 24, in deciding that a state of war existed in Ireland, giving the military full power to act without interference by the civil courts.

The clemency appeal was adopted by the corporation Saturday and a copy sent to General Sir Nevill Macready, commander of the troops in Ireland. In all the Catholic churches in Cork yesterday prayers were said for the condemned men.

Billion Dollar Credit To Germany Given Tentative Approval By Harding

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—President Harding has given his tentative approval to what may amount to a billion dollar credit to Germany and thus enable the people of Central Europe to buy American goods and products of which they are in serious need.

The plan as outlined to Mr. Harding by the New York bankers contemplates the use of the securities held in the United States by the alien property custodian in behalf of German citizens. This is estimated to amount to at least $400,000,000, because the remainder of what the alien property custodian has nearly belongs to citizens of Austria, Poland and Czechoslovakia and under an amendment to the trading with the enemy act passed by Congress the property of those citizens must be returned to them when they claim it.

May Raise Other Funds

It is possible, of course, with four hundred million dollars placed as assets in a single corporation to raise other funds for credit purposes either through American or German interests in the financing of a huge export project of this kind but inquiry here discloses the fact that if the proponents of the idea had the notion that a billion dollars of securities were available for the German credit, such is not the case.

Broadly speaking, the approval by Mr. Harding of the plan does not at all assure its adoption for an act of congress will be required before the alien property custodian can release any of the securities or property which it now holds. All the cash belonging to Germans in the United States treasury and by law cannot be invested in anything else but liberty bonds.

The plan, moreover, would require an agreement with the German government whereby the owners of the property would permit the Berlin government to use the securities in the United States as a basis of credit and would renounce all claims against the American government in connection with the enterprise.

Banking Opinion Not Unanimous

It cannot be said that banking opinion is altogether unanimous as to the wisdom of the scheme for some authorities claim it would be wiser to turn back the four hundred million dollars to the real owners and let the Germans do with it as they please, the theory being that the Germans will perhaps find the more effective way to invest their own securities so that trade will be stimulated.

KENTUCKY LAWS LEVYING SPECIAL TAX ON LIQUORS HELD INVALID

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 28.—Kentucky laws levying a special tax on liquors withdrawn from bonded warehouses were held invalid today by the supreme court. Several millions of dollars in taxes already collected by the state were involved.

The court sustained lower courts which had granted an injunction to the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Company and the J. and A. Frieberg Company, preventing interference by the state authorities to withdrawal of liquor on which the tax had been paid.

The supreme court upheld decrees of the federal district court for the eastern Kentucky district that the law under which the taxes were collected violated both the state and federal constitutions.

The state argued that there was no competition in the liquor business and that the tax therefore could not be considered confiscatory.

The opinion of the supreme court, which was unanimous, was read by Justice Brandeis.

16 Perish When U. S. Destroyer Is Sunk In Collision

PANAMA, February 28.—United States (navy) authorities in this city have asked A. C. Hindman, United States district attorney for the canal zone, to bring a libel action against the steamer Steel Inventor, which collided with the United States destroyer Woolsey, off Coiba Island, early Saturday morning. The Woolsey sank almost immediately after the collision and sixteen sailors are believed to have been drowned when the ship went down, or killed when the collision took place.

Captain W. C. Turner, of the Steel Inventor, asserts the destroyer collided with his ship.

Captain Turner said he would recommend to the United States Steel Products Co., of New York, owners of the ship, that a libel action be brought against the government.

The Woolsey was out in two at the after tank by the collision and sank while in tow of the destroyer Aaron Ward, which with the destroyer Philip, have 112 of the Woolsey's survivors aboard.

The collision was reported to the navy department by Admiral Rodman, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, to which the Woolsey, one of the navy's most modern destroyers, was attached.

The damage to the Steel Inventor was slight and no casualties occurred among her crew. She was reported to be proceeding to Balboa under command of the destroyer Buchanan.

The report forwarded by Admiral Rodman said Tom Stanley Woodcock, first class engineer, was killed by the collision and his body was placed aboard the Buchanan.

The missing were reported as follows:

George Elmer Wochman, electrician, (died); Charles N. York, fireman, first; and Emerson Dale Waight, fireman, second.

The injured who are aboard the cruiser Birmingham, are:

D. M. McCalgo, waiter tender and Alford O. Burnside.

The collision, Admiral Rodman reported, occurred 12 miles southwest of Coiba Island.

Shot His Brother To Put Him Out Of His Misery

PONTIAC, MICH., February 28.—Warren Bransford, 11 years old, was detained by the police here today, pending investigation into the killing in a woods near Farmington, yesterday, of his nine-year-old brother, Clare. The older boy shot and killed his brother "to put him out of his misery," he said, after having accidentally wounded him while demonstrating his skill with a revolver.

According to Warren's statement to the sheriff, he fired the first shot in an effort to see how close he could come to his brother without hitting him. The younger had turned at the shot, and was struck in the side. Warren then placed the muzzle against the prostrated child's head and pulled the trigger, killing him instantly. "I wanted to put him out of his misery; I didn't want to see him suffer," he said today.

Town Literally Shot Off Face Of The Map

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 28.—Governor John J. Cornwell, accompanied by Governor-elect E. F. Morgan, who succeeds him in office on March 4, yesterday visited and inspected the working of the Willis Branch Coal Company in Fayette county, and the surrounding village of Willis Branch, where heavy heavy gun fighting took place February 19, and upon their return to Charleston announced that the town resembled having been "literally shot off the face of the map."

The trip was made by the governor and his successor in response to a request from the Willis Branch company for additional armed protection. The governor-elect declined to say what he intended to do about the case after assuming office, but he made this comment:

"It is inconceivable that such conditions could exist in this day and age," Governor Cornwell, however, described conditions there more in detail.

"Its citizens have abandoned it," he said, referring to the village, "leaving personal effects, furniture and livestock behind. With the exceptions of half-finished dogs, cats and chickens which wander about the streets and the station, the town is devoid of life. The company store, office, post office, nine foreman's home and 65 of the remaining 67 cottages are riddled with rifle bullets. The condition of other cottages shows they have been burned or wrecked with dynamite."

The governor said he learned that every week for the past year the town had been shot up.

Men who work in neighboring mines he added, are blamed by the coal operators for these attacks. Until February 19, the governor said, state police on duty told him a small number of miners and their families remained in the village and worked in the mines. The cottages of these, he said, had been reinforced with sheet iron and sand bag barricades. For the better protection of their families they had fled where the women and children would remain until the nightly shooting ceased.

Reports of the fusillade of February 19, which filtered in indicated that one man was slain. The next day, however, the small body of miners and their families made a hasty retreat to other parts.

The village in the village was equalled by the havoc done the mine working, said the governor, and the destruction was further described by William McKell, the general manager of the Willis Branch company.

"Miners in this whole section," he said, "struck September 1, 1919. The operators generally yielded to the demands of the workers, but this company decided to make a final fight of it, and it has been a fight ever since. Poles carrying electric current to the mine were blown up. Charges of dynamite wrecked both inlines. The hoist house was broken into and its machinery destroyed. The tipple was fired and badly damaged. On February 19 a sub-station was blown up by a charge of dynamite."

Farm Loan Act Upheld

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Section of the Lever food control act under which the department of justice has brought many actions for alleged profiteering in necessities were declared unconstitutional today by the supreme court. Chief Justice White read the court's opinion.

Conviction of the L. Cohen Grocery Company, of St. Louis, in having charged an unreasonable profit on sales of sugar was set aside by the court.

In taking this action the court sustained decrees of lower courts which had sustained a demurrer to the indictment of the grocery concern. The specific charge was that the defendant charged $10.70 for fifty fendant charged $10.70 for fifty pounds of sugar or at the rate of 21 Justice Brandeis and Pitney concurred in the opinion, but dissenting from the reasoning by which it was reached.

Hundreds of cases growing out of the government campaign to reduce the cost of living are affected by the opinion. A number of these cases have reached the supreme court, while many others are pending in lower courts.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The federal farm loan act was held constitutional today by the Supreme Court. This is the act under which land banks were established to extend loans to farmers.

Millions of dollars in loans to farmers have been held up pending a decision of the court in this case, which was brought by Charles W. Smith, a stockholder in the Kansas City Title and Trust Company, who sought an injunction to restrain that institution from investing its funds in bonds issued by the farm loan banks.

The act was attacked on the ground that congress was without constitutional authority to establish farm loan banks and to exempt their bonds from taxation. Justice Day, who rendered the opinion of the court, said the power of congress to establish banks had in a broad sense been upheld by the supreme court in the days of Chief Justice Marshall.

The court in sustaining federal court decrees dismissing injunction proceedings brought by Mr. Smith, also held that congress had the authority to exempt the bonds of any bank from taxation.

The court divided 6 to 2. Justices Holmes and McReynolds dissented. Justice Brandeis took no part in considering the case. Justices Holmes and McReynolds held that the cause "should have been dismissed by the court as being solely within the scope of the Missouri courts."

In anticipation of the decision of the court the house on Saturday postponed until tomorrow a vote on a section of the sundry civil bill authorizing the treasury to purchase $200,000,000 worth of farm loan bonds. The supreme court's decision will permit the banks to go ahead with the sale of their bonds on the market and some congressional leaders do not regard it as necessary to make the proposed $200,000 appropriation.

Human Side Of Harding Revealed When He Addresses The Deaf, Dumb And Blind

BY ROBERT T. SMALL
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 28.—The human side of Warren G. Harding was revealed when he appeared unannounced in the platform of the Florida state school for the blind, the deaf and the dumb. A few years ago this school would have been called a house, where its afflicted inmates might have lived the remainder of their lives in indolence and mental misery. But under the new order of things it is classified as a school and the young people attending it are preparing themselves to take an important and useful place in the affairs of the world.

When the head of the institution first came to the Harding headquarters and suggested that the president elect come and make a few remarks to the children, George Christian, Mr. Harding's secretary, pointed out that the demands upon the Senator in the closing days of his stay in Florida were so tremendous he doubted seriously if the visit to the school could be arranged. Remembering, however, that Mr. Harding has a second sister afflicted by blindness, Mr. Christian thought it would be a good plan for Dr. A. H. Wagner, a principal of the school, personally to convey an invitation to the president-elect. In less than an hour after the interview had been arranged, Senator Harding was on his way to the school. He was accompanied only by Samuel T. Williamson, another correspondent. The visit was so impromptu that Mrs. Harding herself was not notified and afterward expressed regret she had been unable to attend.

The scene at the school was one not easily to be forgotten. Less than a mile outside of this ancient city, the school, a modern structure of Spanish architecture, with white walls and red tile roof, stood in a grove of palm trees.

Facts About Your Income Tax

Deductions for contributions form an important item in the returns of many taxpayers. Contributions during the year to corporate organizations conducting charitable, scientific, educational and religious work, to societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals and to the special fund for vocational rehabilitation are allowable deductions if the aggregate amount does not exceed 15 per cent of the taxpayer's net income computed without the benefit of this deduction.

For example, a taxpayer whose net income for 1920 amounted to $20,000 may have contributed to the Young Men's Christian Association $1,000, to the Young Women's Christian Association $1,000, toward the construction of a new church $1,000 and to the Associated Charities of a city $500, a total of $3,500. Fifteen per cent of the taxpayer's total net income amounts to $3,000. Therefore, only this amount may be claimed as a deduction and the balance of such contributions must be considered as a gift.

Contributions to a hospital or like institution, the net earnings of which insure to private stockholders are not allowable deductions.

Frequently a deduction is claimed for a contribution to a needy family or individual charity. Such deductions are not allowed, contributions of this kind being considered a gift. Donations to churches are deductible, including missionary funds, church building funds, pew rents, church assessments and church dues.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F.M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellowish, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, 15c and 30c.

Winchester Team Stepping Some

The Winchester high school basketball team continues to break records for straight victories. They added another victory to its already long list when they defeated the Fenwick Panthers of Cincinnati 22 to 13. It was the hardest fought game of the season, but with Stevenson and Grey making some wonderful shots in the last half of the contest, W. H. S. came out on the long end of the game.

Winchester is now going after bigger game and the first of these big contests will be staged March 2 when the Portsmouth Selects, headed by Captain Baesman, invade the Winchester territory. Jacob Gleim Badly Hurt When Horse Falls On Him

Jacob Gleim, 40, farmer of Pine Creek, near Wheelersburg, was seriously injured Sunday afternoon about two o'clock when he was thrown from a horse, he being injured about the back when the horse fell. Dr. G. M. Andre of Wheelersburg was called to attend Mr. Gleim Sunday afternoon and it is feared that his spine is injured. He was unable to move one of his legs Sunday night. An X-ray will be taken probably to determine the seriousness of the injury.

Mr. Gleim and Jacob Hammerstein were riding horseback and when in front of the Charles Leukkas farm on Pine Creek, Mr. Gleim's horse got to near the side of the road and started down the small bank at the side. Mr. Gleim was thrown over the horse's head and then the horse fell, one of its knees striking him in the sun of the back. Mr. Gleim was taken home by Mr. Jenkins. The worst injury seems to be at the left hip joint.

Dr. McCreary Is Pardoned

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 28.—Governor Edwin P. Morrow today pardoned Dr. J. C. McCreary, Warren county, convicted in 1915 on charges of repeated mistreatment of Mattie Funkhouser, a 12 year old orphan, whom he had taken into his home as a companion for his invalid wife.

"This man for six years has been a most exceptional prisoner," said the governor. "If guilty, he has paid full and complete penalty for his crime."

CHIEF BENDER RETAINS HIS CUNNING

Chief Bender as the fans know him.

Pitching records of the Eastern league, recently published, show that Charles Albert Bender, the most noted of Connie Mack's great outfit of years gone by, still is a wily heaver. He won twenty-five games and lost but twelve.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Dolly—Would you kindly tell me just how to give a present to a girl who is a prospective bride would she not receive with me?

Also, what would be suitable refreshments?

INFORMATION

If you have it rather formal and expect a large number invite your friends from three to five in the afternoon and have the honor-guest receive with you. The guests will stay only a short while and are privileged to come any time in the hours specified. Have two or three serve in the dining room and have either an ice or salad course. For the latter, serve a salad, hot rolls or sandwiches, olives or pickles on the same plate with coffee and nuts. For an informal affair, the guests may stay for the afternoon with a light luncheon served about 4:30.

Miss Wise—On what day did December 12, 1878 come? Also in 1892? Thank you.

J. C. M.
Tuesday and Monday respectively.

Dear Dolly—I have been a reader of your column for some time and would like for you to answer this for me. I am 18 years old, have dark brown hair, blue eyes, fair complexion, weigh 125 pounds. I have been going with a fellow for some time and I love him dearly and he says he loves me. But Dolly there are two girls down in town that live close to him. One is away at present but the other one is always at his home. Now Dolly do you think he loves me or do you think he loves them? I love him and it almost breaks my heart to think he acts that way with them and then tells me he doesn't care for them. I stay at home and don't talk to any one else. I think he ought to treat me the same. Don't you? Hoping you will consider this and answer it for me I will close. Yours sincerely,

Those girls are probably neighbors, who were old playmates and whose friendship would not alter his regard for you. If he cares anything for you he will not let their friendship interfere.

Dear Miss Dolly—As many others do, I am coming to you for advice. I am married and have a good husband and a little boy and girl, who are 12 and 34 years old, but it seems I am kept so busy with housework I can't have any outside pleasure.

To Whom It May Concern:

Beginning March 1st, I will limit my practice to LUNG trouble and Diseases of WOMEN. Please do not call me to attend other cases.

Respectfully,

I do not want to be old before my time and wonder if you think I could get a position for the day some where and what kind of work would you do? I had a fairly good education and think I would be able to do office work of some kind? Could you advise me about this. Thank you.

MRS. E. M. S.

Yours is a story that comes from persons in all walks of life—"tired of your job." So many of us are in the same boat, judging from remarks heard here and there, but there's a romance in every job. Did you ever story to think of that? Didn't anyone ever express their envy of you with your home and two children? As seen through their eyes, the drudgery of your days doesn't even exist. It's the fellow outside looking in that sees the fascinating part of your work. No doubt your combination of kitchen, bread-making, baby-tending or mending, means only a tiresome day ahead for you, but to some of us "nine to fivers" it looks pretty alluring. Put yourself in the place of an office girl. In many cases, she gets just as tired of pounding a typewriter and contending with queer people, as every other person in his or her work. But there is a little romance in everything, and the big thing is to see it in your job, and you have the touchstone that makes the everyday world a magic place.

Perhaps you have indulged the children, too much. Teach them to help you with little tasks and reward them with taking them with you to the movies, a church social or a walk into the woods, then they will be eager to help you to finish sooner. Be at your best when friend husband comes home. Have a dish that he likes, and the fact that he enjoys it will be a reward in itself. If you were to have work outside along with keeping up your home, it would soon become worse than monotonous. Put yourself in the place of the fellow "outside looking in" and your job will be good enough.

BILLY WHISKER

"THE STORY OF LONG HORNS" By the Cow from Texas, was the third speech at the club meeting.

Long-Horns, the cow from Texas, was so called on account of her beautiful, long horns, and of these same horns she was very proud, as well she might be, for they were not only extremely long, but they gradually and gracefully tapered to a sharp point in a most artistic manner.

She was the next to step forward to tell her experiences and I am sorry to say that the things that happened to her have happened to hundreds and thousands of other cows.

She was slightly embarrassed at first, when she found herself on the platform facing so many strange animals from near and far, but she need not have been, for she was groomed to the point of perfection and her red-brown sides shone like satin in the moonlight, and well they might, for three of the younger cows had been licking her sides with their tongues to make them so, just as a masseur or masseuse deftly works over face and hair of a fashionable lady, when she is to read a paper or take part in a program at a club meeting.

The three young heifers that had licked her coat were poor young things with no social standing, as they had been bought from a passing drover of cattle and not raised on any of the farms near by, which would have given them a high prestige, consequently, they were looked down upon as people sometimes are, when they can boast no family tree or royal lineage. But to get back to my story, I must stop telling you what she looked like and tell you what she said.

"Before I came here, I never knew what quiet farm life meant, for I was born and raised on the wild, western plains of Texas, and there cows are raised for beef and not for milk as you are here. The herd I belonged to was one of five thousand head of cattle and each was branded on the left flank with a big H.

"This branding of cattle is brutal and cruel in the extreme, and makes cattle afraid of men ever after.

"One bright day in spring when the sky was as blue as forget-me-nots, the larks were singing high above my head, and wild birds building their nests in the long grass, two deer-looking men, on horseback, in rough-riding suits, corduroy trousers, sombreros, and red handkerchiefs knotted loosely round their necks came galloping at full speed toward me, swinging long, hissing ropes in their outstretched arms. I looked up quickly from my peaceful grazing, surprised and frightened as I would have been had a dreadful hurricane swept down from a clear, blue sky, and started to run when a hissing, whizzing noise sounded in my ears and a strong rope caught my hind feet, throwing me violently to the ground, then a heavy knee was pressed on my neck, my horns caught in a firm grasp, and my head jerked to one side while, before I could collect my scattered senses, another hand had grasped one hind leg and a red-hot iron was pressed against my hip and kept there until it had burned the letter H deep into my hide. The pain was excruciating and I tried to hellow, but my head and jaws were held so firmly that I could make no noise. As soon as the letter was well branded, the men left me to take care of myself as best I could. I lay for some time dazed to move or think.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be shiny, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

TWO CODES

"I am not holding any briefs for the old, old order, Gwendal," continued John Neale, "but I still maintain that a girl like you makes a grave mistake in trusting her name and self to the tender mercies of a man like Felja Stepanoff. In the first place, the codes of a Polish man, especially an artist, are entirely different from our own. What is quite wrong in our country is the usual thing in his. Do you savvy? In Poland it is not considered out of the way for a man to make love to a girl in any way that pleases him, and under any circumstances. But you know how we stop and think these things over, here in our country."

"As far as I can make out, most men are the same, under their skins," answered Gwendal coolly. "I cannot see that being a Pole makes Felja any more dangerous to women than a man from, say, Georgia or Pittsburgh. That sounds too much like prejudice, after all."

"And yet what about the fair Maude?" asked John. "I am not trying to say he is all bad, because I know that he isn't, but I do still say that Maude's code concerning women is different from my own, which is that of the average, clean American man. At this very moment that we sit here grinding our teeth over his escapade, I could venture to say that Maude, himself, is sitting somewhere with the latest object of his affections, and entirely free from any twinges of conscience such as I, let us say, would have. It simply isn't in him to feel any remorse where his amours are concerned. All women are fair game to him, irrespective of age or circumstances. If he had been otherwise he would have thought twice before he carried off a girl like Fern, and betrayed our friendship so shamelessly."

"I understand you, perfectly, John, and I know that somewhere Maude's training is at fault, or he would not have done what he has done, but that doesn't prove to me that only foreigners are consciousness in this respect. We have our own opinions on this subject, you and I, and what is the use of trying to thrash it out at this moment? Felja did not try to persuade me to run away with him, not by a long sight. He did—he did—here she stopped, confused at the very memory of all that he had tried to do, and blushed scarlet.

John Neale watched her face flame and read her thoughts correctly. He felt a queer little contraction of his heart as he realized that the girl sitting opposite him, so soft and innocent looking, and without doubt lived through some tremendous experience only a few short hours before, and with Felja Stepanoff, Felja, whose women were as numerous as the waves of the sea.

"Don't talk about it any more. Don't even think of it ever again," he burst passionately from his lips, as he watched her. "I would give my life to have been able to save you from going through whatever you went through last night, Gwendal. I wish you had never seen Felja."

Sausages.

Surprising as it may seem, there are 1,700 different varieties of sausages in the world today. All nationalities love certain national dishes, and some form of sausage seems included in the cuisine of every country. China makes sausages, and very good ones, from the eastern point of view. Germany is pre-eminently a sausage-eating nation. Great quantities of this food are consumed by the people of Latin countries. In Italy and France they are eaten more as a relish than as a dish, and the noonday meal often commences with thin slices of cold sausage, flanked with a few olives and a pat of fresh butter. Sausages in France are associated with certain festive days, and a kind of blood sausage is always served at the Christmas eve supper. Neither is sausage a modern food, born of economy and the utilizing of meat scraps. The town of Koenigsberg, Germany, in 1853, celebrated the national dish by making a bologna sausage more than 600 feet long.

Hogmanay.

Hogmanay, Hogmenna or Haggmenna means holy month. December is so-called because our Lord was born on the 25th thereof. The word is derived from the Saxon "Hilag," meaning, holy month. New Year's eve is called "Hogmanay night" or "Hogg-night," and it is still customary in parts of Scotland for persons to go from door to door on that night, asking in rude rhymes for cakes or money. King Haco of Norway fired the feast of Yule on Christmas day, the eve of which—used to be called hogg-night, but the Scots were taught by the French to transfer the feast of Yule to the feast of Noel and hogg-night has ever since been the last of December.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR HEALTH

If Your Blood Is Weak and Clogged with Poisons, Pepto-Mangan Will Strengthen and Purify It

When you get over-tired day after day, your system has to get rid of so much waste it can't create new energy fast enough. The result is that your blood is filled with waste matter. It becomes clogged. You are trying to get around with a lot of poison in your system.

You look bad, you feel poorly. You get out of patience easily. Ambition is lost. You just don't care about anything.

That is no way to live. Your blood needs help for a time. It is starved. You will find help in that fine tonic, Pepto-Mangan. Pepto-Mangan purifies the blood and fills it with red corpuscles. In a little while you'll have plenty of rich, red blood and you won't know yourself. It isn't a magic medicine. It contains iron and other ingredients that feed starved blood and make it rich and red. Physicians have prescribed Pepto-Mangan for years.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer. One acts the same as the other. Both contain the same ingredients. But be sure to get the genuine, Pepto-Mangan — "Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package. —Advertisement.

patcher of the Michigan Central at Chicago also declared the Michigan Central engine crew apparently failed to observe that the crossing signal was set against them.

With the coming of daylight, officials in charge of the wrecking crews expected to be able to clear away the wreckage sufficiently to enable trains to operate on both tracks and to remove the last of the bodies still held down by timbers. Portions of at least six persons were visible beneath the heavy New York Central cars, members of the wrecking crew declared.

Because of the darkness the shock of the catastrophe and the frenzied efforts of volunteers, many names were at first given out by railroad officials as among the dead who later were found not to have been aboard.

The heavy death toll, it was believed, made it doubtful if more than a score had been seriously injured, according to railroad officials, as only the passengers in the two coaches received the shock of the flying New York Central train.

The engine of the New York Central train burst through the wooden coaches with such force that it whirled half around, far down the track, and the small blaze which started in the wreckage was quickly subdued.

Within a short time lights in the upright coaches of both trains were turned on again from an emergency connection and a semblance of panic among the uninjured was allayed, while the unhurt ministered to those buried from their seats, but still living.

At 8 o'clock, parts of what seemed to be at least three bodies were taken from the debris. Railroad officials and coroner Seipel, of Valparaiso, at that time had almost given up hope of identifying half a dozen of the bodies.

Entrance to the little back room of the undertaker's chapel was barred to all except a few who were able to show they could assist in identification.

After stating that Engineer Long, of the Michigan Central Train, had left his home in Jackson, Michigan, members of the wrecking crew of Michigan Central Railroad men admitted that he had not gone there. They refused to disclose his whereabouts.

Officials of the New York Central, said that the automatic recording device in the tower at the crossing, showed that the New York Central train hit the automatic tower bell signal station, three miles back from the crossing on each line, just 20 seconds ahead of the Michigan Central train, thus giving the New York Central train the right of way.

The derailment of the tracks at the crossing is automatically set when the block signal is set against a train at the block tower two miles back from the crossing, they said. The derailment on the Michigan Central tracks threw that train off the rails, 600 feet from the injured.

Preliminary investigation and the handling of the identifications at the Chatterton morgue were taken over early today by Coroner Seipel, of Valparaiso, Indiana, assisted by Division Superintendents McKelvey, Wright and Markey of the Michigan Central.

Records of the Michigan train disclosed a large number of railroad employees traveling on passes, scheduled to go on the wrecked train, but they could not be located in the Chatterton morgue.

Efforts of volunteer doctors and nurses from Michigan City and Gary to rush the injured to hospitals led to confusion in the check of railroad officials upon the list of casualties.

The speed of the New York Central train, while fatal to passengers in the two death cars, saved the passengers in the rear coaches of both trains from worse than a severe jolting.

Bodies of Engineer Claude Johnson, of Elkhart, Indiana, and Fireman George Meland, of Elkhart, engine crew on the New York Central, were recovered early today from beneath the tangled mass of wreckage.

Engineer and Fireman Saved Engineer W. F. Long, of Jackson, Michigan, and Fireman George Meland, of Elkhart, Michigan, were able to save themselves, their engine being far beyond the point of the collision.

"I was not to blame," Fireman Cook told an Associated Press representative at his home in Chatterton today. "I threw the distant block against the Michigan Central train. I threw the block two miles back from the crossing. I do not know why they failed to catch the signal."

Representatives of the Indiana railroad commission were expected on the scene early today to start the state's investigation. An official was issued from the office of the chief dis-

ELIE KITCHEN, N. & W. EMPLOYE IS HELD UP BY THREE NEGROES; ARREST IS MADE

Elie Kitchen, 1321 High street, an employee of the N. & W. shops, East Portsmouth, had an exciting experience Sunday night about eight o'clock, when he was held up and robbed at the point of a gun by a trio of negro footpads.

Kitchen claims he was passing through the railroad "cut" between the N. & W. passenger station and Eleventh street, when he says the three negroes suddenly appeared and demanded his money and at the same time pointed a gun at him and warned him not to make an outcry. He declares that two of the men held him while the other went through his pockets and took his pocketbook containing $30 and disappeared down

"Blackberry Alley." Badly frightened, the victim of the hold-up made his way to the N. & W. station where he told of the robbery, and the police were in turn notified.

Officers conducted a vigorous search through the North End for the bandits and shortly after midnight arrested a negro who gave his name as Jacob Moore, 26, and he was later identified by Kitchen as one of the three men who robbed him.

The police were furnished a description of the three men and other arrests are expected. The police are looking for a trio of colored men, who were seen hanging around the depot most of Sunday. They believe they may know something about the hold-up.

"BETTER LUCK NEXT TIME," CHIRPS BATTLE ON RETURN FROM EUROPE

Battling Levinsky and Mrs. Levinsky.

Battling Levinsky, light heavyweight glove slinger, is back in the U. S. after a fruitless visit to England. He went there mainly to fight Bombarider Wells the night Pete Herman laced Jimmy Wilde all over the ring. The Battler, however, fractured a bone in his elbow just before the night of the bout and had to cancel the engagement. Other plans for matches in Europe also failed. "Maybe I'll have better luck next time I go over," says Levinsky.

be revived. There is also the suggestion that if the German owners get their assets back they may be in a position to borrow funds with which to pay American firms to whom they already owe large sums of money and stimulate trade that way before engaging in new purchases.

While American merchants are eager for foreign markets, they are obviously not anxious to sell customers that have not or will not pay. The whole question as to what shall be done with the German property in the United States can be settled alone by Congress. The office of the alien property custodian is simply a huge trust company which has held the goods for disposition by Congress. It is probable that the next secretary of state, Hughes, will weave the matter into the commercial treaty between the United States and Germany wherein it is intended to dispose of all questions between the United States and Germany growing out of the war without taking over any of the obligations of the treaty of Versailles.

Human Side

Harding in Golf Toss Mr. Harding was in golf togs when he arrived at the school and the silence as he was ushered into the auditorium was the impressive silence of an assemblage of those who could not speak or hear, or speaking and hearing, could not see. There were children in the audience who were crippled, as if the top of the world of hearing, speaking and vision were not affliction enough. Possibly the oldest students at this strangely silent school were sixteen years of age. There were others not more than three or four, some happily ignorant of their handicaps and talking animatedly through the medium of signs, some with sad and listless eyes. It required no stretch of the imagination to see how deeply Mr. Harding was touched as he sat on the platform, facing this unusual audience, and waited for as strange an introduction as a president-elect of the United States ever had. Dr. Walker, the principal, first introduced Mr. Harding to the deaf and dumb children who predominated in his introduction was an eloquent exemplification of the sign language.

The silence of the signs meant nothing, of course, to the blind students, so finally the principal spoke briefly to them, and at the end of the double introduction Mr. Harding arose. As he spoke his words were interpreted to the deaf and dumb by the principal who stood beside him. The expressiveness of the sign language was brought to the onlooker. Dr. Walker not only repeated all that Mr. Harding said but he emphasized each point with peculiarly expressive gestures. Once the dumb children were moved to applause but the slightest gesture deterred them and they listened to the rest of the discourse in silence, and although the next president stood before them their gaze was mixed always and necessarily on the man who made the uttered words understandable to them.

Harding Cheers Afflicted Mr. Harding began in a sympathetic tone and spoke of the point of contact between himself and the children, the life work of a sister devoting herself to the education of the blind. He said he wished it were in his power to give to the blind clear vision, and that he might return to the deaf and dumb their impaired senses. Quickly, however, the senator switched to a tone of optimism and for five minutes or more he told the children of a bright future they could make for themselves. He referred to the beauty of their surroundings, of the care the state was bestowing upon them, and said it was the duty of the federal government to see that the Republic always should be worthy of their participation efforts.

There was no record made of the speech. No presidential photographers along. It was just a homely talk of optimism and helpfulness, and it revealed Warren Harding at his best.

Train Wreck

The darkness and the tangled mass of wreckage made rescue work slow last night, railroad officials waiting for daylight before attempting an accurate check of dead and injured.

A statement by Towerman J. C. Cook, on duty at the crossing, declared the block two miles away was set against the Michigan Central train while the track was left clear for the New York Central. Railroad officials at the scene of the wreck said Engineer W. F. Long, of Jackson, Mich-

Burns Fatal To Child

So great was the shock suffered by Dorothy May Bumgarner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bumgarner, 816 Eleventh street last Thursday noon when she was burned that she died at Hempstead hospital Sunday morning at 3:45 o'clock. The burns suffered were not so severe that they caused death but the shock which resulted from the accident proved too much for the little body. The child was three years, six months and 20 days old.

Friday noon the mother started a trash paper fire in the back yard and while she was in the house the little girl ventured too close and her clothing caught fire. Before the parents could smother the flames the child was burned from the forehead to the middle of the thighs. Thursday afternoon the child was removed to Hempstead hospital and the next day she was thought to be getting along nicely.

Saturday her condition took a change for the worse and the parents were notified. Mr. and Bumgarner were at the hospital when their child passed away.

Besides the parents a sister Abel and two brothers Roy and John Henry survive.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon from the home, 816 Eleventh street with Rev. Arthur Canfield in charge. Burial will be in Greenlawn.

JUDGE SMALL RESIGNS FOLLOWING ARREST FOR TRANSPORTING LIQUOR

Following closely on the heels of the arrest of Municipal Judge Horace L. Small at three o'clock Monday morning on a charge of unlawfully transporting intoxicating liquor, he wired his resignation to Governor Harry L. Davis.

On being notified by Judge Small that he had resigned, Acting Mayor George Vanderveer named Attorney Sheppard Johnson temporarily to fill the vacancy until the governor appoints a successor.

The arrest of Judge Small came as an echo of an automobile accident which occurred late Saturday night, when his machine skidded and crashed into the Dry Run bridge, West Side.

Judge Small, who was driving, and his companion, Joseph L. Switalski, a well known real estate dealer, were returning from the home of John Cateo. Pond Creek farmer, were both injured. It is claimed they had bought a quantity of grape wine from Cateo and the fluid was contained in a keg and jug, several of the bottles being broken by the force of the collision.

When this incident came to the ears of the officers, search warrants were sworn out in Squire McManes' court at New Boston, and Switalski's home, at 1505 Fifth street, was raided by Constable George Morgan and Federal prohibition officers late Sunday night. The visit of the officers resulted in uncovering a keg containing several gallons of wine, it is claimed, and the arrest of Switalski on a charge of unlawfully possessing the liquor followed.

The two defendants were promptly taken before Squire McManes and were released on bond pending their hearing. The officers also visited the home of Cateo and after one of the Federal agents had bought a gallon of wine from him placed him under arrest.

JUDGE SMALL AND J. L. SWITALSKI INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Municipal Judge Horace L. Small and Joseph L. Switalski, a well known real estate dealer were injured Saturday night when the former's machine figured in an accident near Dry Run on the West Side.

Judge Small suffered a painful cut on his face and other cuts and bruises and Mr. Switalski suffered the fracture of three ribs on his right side. He was thrown violently against the side of the machine and is suffering from pain from his injury.

According to Judge Small he was driving to the city at the rate of about 18 miles an hour when the right front wheel of his machine struck one of the abutments of the concrete bridge near Dry Run, which was completed last year. The force of the impact smashed the right front wheel and when the car swerved around the left front wheel came away. One fender was also damaged and the front axle was bent.

Judge Small and Mr. Switalski secured another machine and came to this city, where their injuries were attended. Mr. Switalski says that it was raining hard when the accident occurred and it was impossible for Judge Small to see the abutment of the culvert. "Luckily we were going slowly or the accident would have been more serious," Mr. Switalski said in discussing it. He was accompanied by his little son.

Greece Opposed To Plan For Investigation

LONDON, February 28.—Greece has refused to accept the proposal that an investigation of conditions be made in Thrace and Smyrna preparatory to making alterations in the Serres treaty. M. The telegram was not presented officially to the allied premier, and they were simply allowed to know its contents indirectly.

Read what a Doctor, a Nurse and a Texan say about LUNGARDIA

Wonderful for Coughs, Colds, Difficult Breathing, Bronchitis, Etc.

The doctor says: "Since I have been dispensing LUNGARDIA I have found it my main standby. The first time during the influenza epidemic, when my condition was approaching a serious stage. The results were, no swift, so effective and so lasting that I deem it a duty to recommend it to be in all homes as a preventive and emergency medicine."

The nurse says: "I have personally used LUNGARDIA for deep seated coughs and colds the first time during the influenza epidemic, when my condition was approaching a serious stage. The results were, no swift, so effective and so lasting that I deem it a duty to recommend it to be in all homes as a preventive and emergency medicine."

The above statement from Mrs. E. Vandervort, having charge for the past five years of the obstetrical department of one of the largest hospitals of the entire South and Middle West. She is likewise one of the best known in her profession.

J. G. Cook of Frankston, Texas, says: "I suffered with a cough as the result of influenza from October to April; I was unable to work from October until May. After the use of LUNGARDIA completely restored me to health and to my work. Anyone can write me for verification. I can not say too much in its praise."

These letters, together with thousands of others, come unsolicited. "Guard your lungs with LUNGARDIA."

Coughs and colds are mere playthings for LUNGARDIA; unequalled for grippe. Put it to the test. Buy one at your favorite store, 60c to $1.25 a bottle—Adv.

Harding On Way Back To Marion For Farewell

ON BOARD PRESIDENT-ELECT HARDING'S TRAIN, February 28.—With his preparations for the launching of his administration about complete, President-elect Harding was on his way back to Marion today to receive a formal farewell from his home town before entering the White House.

The president-elect's special train, which left St. Augustine, Florida, last night, is to reach Cincinnati this evening and Marion tomorrow morning. A buy-over of several towns is expected to be in Marion until late Wednesday. Fanned by five weeks under the Florida sun, the president-elect is returning northward apparently in much better physical trim than he was when he left Ohio. Not only did he have two weeks of complete rest during his houseboat trip, but he has since spent a part of practically every day on the golf links at St. Augustine.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

A Suggestion to the Sportsmen of Portsmouth

WE have stated on several occasions that our new seven passenger "Lakewood 6-66" is a car without a legitimate competitor.

By that we mean that it very distinctly outclasses every car in its own price field.

By that we mean that it can be compared with only the finest and most expensive motor vehicles on the market.

This is a broad and sweeping statement—very important if true, and very improper if founded on anything less substantial than facts.

But we are sure of our facts and the time is at hand when you can confirm them.

Practically every reputable American motor car is now on exhibition in automobile row.

We suggest that you visit the row and compare the "Lakewood" with any car—at any price—and form your own conclusions.

All models will be exhibited at Automobile Shows throughout the country

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—On the stock exchange the week opened with a recurrence of the recent uncertain trend. Shipments and oils were reactionary while rails and equipments were steady. Atlantic Gulf, American International, Mexican Petroleum, Royal Dutch and American Woolen lost from 1/2 to 1 1/2 points in the first few transactions. Southern Pacific, Baldwin Locomotive, International Paper and Peoples Gas hardened moderately on short covering. United States Steel, selling ex-dividend with numerous other popular issues lost a fraction. Exchange on London eased slightly from last week's final quotations.

Prior movements during the morning were highly confusing. Irregular advances among oils, equipments and tobaccos being offset by losses of 1 to 3 points among the cheaper motors, utilities, Central Leather, Sears-Roebuck and various specialties. Mexican Petroleum and Associated, Houston and Pacific oils rose 1 to 1 1/2. American and Baldwin Locomotives 1 1/2. Crucible Steel 1 1/2. Utah Copper 1 and Kelsey Wheel 1 1/2. Lorillard Tobacco showed exceptional strength gaining 3 points. There was active trading in Southern Pacific "rights" in a gain of 1 1/2, but in general rails were dull and little changed. Early call loans were made at 7 per cent.

Trading in the stock market was very dull and professional. Popular issues were comparatively steady, but specialties again gave way to pressure. Sales approximated 375,000 shares. The closing was heavy.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Wheat prices declined today largely as a result of sales of wheat to go into store and because of larger arrivals southwest. Moreover, bears contended that wheat values were greatly out of line. Commission houses led the selling, where demand was only scattering. Initial quotations, which ranged from 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 lower, with March 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 and May 1 1/2 to 1 1/4, were followed by a material further set-back.

Liberal receipts weakened corn. After opening, 3/4 to 1/2 lower, including Mar at 68 1/2 to 69 1/2, the market continued to sag.

The close was weak, 1/4 to 1/2 lower, with March 1 1/4 to 1 1/2, and May 1 1/2 to 1 1/4.

SCIOVILLE AND WHEELERSBURG

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. L. Church will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the church. All members are asked to be present.

The Portsmouth high school team will play the high school team Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. Admission 25c. Mrs. John Weiler is ill at her home. Mrs. Anna Smith was the dinner guest yesterday of Mrs. Mary Jones of New Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stanton and son, Walter and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas of Portsmouth were the dinner guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kotter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shaner of Pine street, New Boston who have been the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shaner, have returned home.

Mrs. Jesse Buckle was called yesterday to the bedside of her father, Alvin Shanks of Mercer's Bottom, W. Va., who is quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cottrill of Portsmouth spent yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. George Bowder.

Mrs. George Bolander of Ironton, who was operated upon for the removal of her tonsils is getting along nicely at the home of relative here.

There was but one slight discord in the services held at the Scioville Christian church, Sunday, and that was occasioned by the fact that the attendance at the Bible school fell short of expectation due entirely to the weather conditions that prevailed. There were 320 at Bible school, when it was hoped for 420. But what was lacking yesterday will be made up next Sunday, when another drive will be made for the coveted goal of 420. Should these figures be reached, all records will be broken, and under the able pastorate of Rev. Charles Reinhard, the church and Bible school will not be satisfied unless every branch of the institutions move forward. While the attendance at Bible school fell short 90, nevertheless a crowd of 320 is something to be proud of for Scioville. Every other service was well attended, in fact the church was crowded both morning and evening and the hearts of the pastor and his parishioners were made happy when persons united with the church. Under the leadership of Evangelist Sherers of Wellsville, the revival which will continue every night this week, is gaining impetus and will result in one of the greatest meetings in the history of the church.

This evening Rev. Sherers will speak on the subject, "Near Slightness." He is a forceful speaker and an enthusiastic song leader. Special music will feature the service and the general public is cordially invited to attend. Services start at 7 o'clock.

WHEELERSBURG

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wilson received an announcement that a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Clutts of Bowling Green, O. and has been named Betty Carol.

Miss Abbie Butcher of Sticksdale, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Norman Adams.

Miss Helen McCoy and her guest, Miss Maud Gill of McCoy, Ky., were the guest Saturday of Wm. Ranshaw of Mount Street.

Miss Gladys Brown was the dinner guest yesterday of Miss Loreau Pollard of Pine Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pollard and children of Scioville were guests yesterday of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pollard of Pine Creek.

All records were again broken at the M. L. church and Sunday School Sunday. The Bible School attendance was 345 and there were 102 in the Men's Bible Class. The revival continues to grow in interest and last night it was decided to continue the services all this week with cottage prayer meetings each afternoon. The total number of conversions is 55 to date. Services each evening at 7:15. The church was so crowded last night that many people had to return home, not being able to find standing room.

Mrs. Mary Hall is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Middaugh of Stanton avenue, New Boston.

Automobiles Are Robbed

Thieves Saturday night rifled the pockets of four automobiles, which were parked near the Eastland theatre on Eleventh street. The police were notified.

Four machines parked on Fourth street near the Masonic Temple, were also rifled Saturday night.

Genius Never Satisfied.
To get the product of genius you are never done. Work done must be constantly subjected to revision. Every time it is done over there is opportunity for eliminations or additions.

Sometimes you will have to recast the whole thing as your study leads you deeper into truth. But what of that? The work you put on it will be forgotten in the joy of a more perfect production. Every revision shows where improvement is possible and the very working over makes the final result the more perfect. Young men have seldom patience enough to stick to a thing until it's put into its best possible shape. But the man of genius is never satisfied. To him work is never finished so long as improvement is possible. To him the ideal is the end to work for. Anything less than this is little better than an irritation.

Sciotoville Made Good
Showing In Tournament

The Sciotoville basketball five returned Sunday night from Athens, where they took part in the Southern Ohio high school basketball tournament held by Ohio University. Sciotoville was pleased with the showing made considering the teams they had as opponents. The S. O. S. boys were one of the last teams to be eliminated. McCannellville won from Sciotoville Saturday morning. In the afternoon McCannellville battled with Athens and lost 12 to 4 to the Athens five.

According to Coach Miller of Sciotoville, the McCannellville quintet would have won from Athens had they made all the free throws given them through fouls made by the Athens team. The victory of Athens left Lancaster and Athens as the two undefeated teams and they closed Saturday night, Lancaster winning 18 to 16. Athens won the silver cup last year but this year it goes to Lancaster. Athens being awarded a wall plaque. Patton, star forward for Athens, did not make a field goal in the last games of the tournament his opponents keeping him well covered.

INDUSTRIAL BOWLING LEAGUE AVERAGES

The first half of the second season of the Industrial Bowling League is half over. Taken as a whole, the averages are somewhat lower than last season, though brilliant individual work has been done by many of the players. Prediger leads in the greatest number of pins for one game, with 224. Thump, of the N. & W., is a close second with 221; Frazier is third with 219; Smith, fourth with 217, and Pedemeyer, fifth, with 212. Russell, of the N. & W., leads in the greatest number of pins for one evening, having topped over 500 in three games; Thump is second with 500; Prediger, third, with 531, and Belcher, fourth, with 508.

Warren Colley brings up the rear with 109 as an average. The team which scored the highest in one evening was the Steel Plant, whose team bowled over 2600 in one night. The N. & W. comes second with 2324, and the Vulcan last third with 2544.

The two teams, N. & W. and the Steel Plant, are tied for first place, having only lost one game each, and will be some hot battle when they meet on March 5.

In bowling averages, Prediger is again in the lead, though with an average nearly of twenty pins lower than the first half of the season.

The surprise of the season so far is the average of Baumgumman. Maybe Joe decided to quit bowling after he saw such a good mark. Who knows?
